

Figure S6: The number of significant mutants at different read depths for different subsets of subsampling experiments. A spline is fit to the results for each of comparison.