Figure S9 Prediction accuracy $r^2$ (for populations represented in training set) for trait southern leaf blight in the NAM population. The points correspond to the replications of the cross-validation. The number of populations in the training set is $P$ and the number of individuals per population is $N_r$. The number of markers used was 575.