

Figure S2 Illustration of the donors used to determine homology length requirements. The wild type ry gene is shown at the bottom, with exons as rectangles and coding sequences shaded gray and the ZFN recognition site in black. The donor homologies are shown as black rectangles, with the mutated ZFN site in white. The plasmid vector backbones are shown as dotted lines.