

Figure S11 The MDS plot of six samples for AJ strain infected with MA15 at day 2 post infection. The two subplots have different text but are based on the same data. MDS plot is used to gauge possible batch-effect and separation between mocks and infected samples, which are well separated.